THE PALLADIUM

Foreword

THE STAFF of THE PALLADIUM humbly submits this History of the Year 1929, with the sincere hope that it will keep alive in your memory the days spent in Troy Normal. Criticize its faults mildly and work with us for a Greater Troy Normal.

A GREATER TROY NORMAL

THE PALLADIUM

Dedication

IN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT of his excellent work and leadership in securing better educational facilities for Alabama in general and for the Troy State Normal in particular, this book is respectfully dedicated to HIS EXCELLENCY, THE HONORABLE BIBB GRAVES, Governor of Alabama.

THE PALLADIUM

DR. ROBERT E. TIDWELL, State Superintendent of Education, who by his splendid effort to bring public education in Alabama to a high standard of excellence, resulting in such marked improvement as to gain the attention of educators of the entire country, has become recognized as one of the outstanding superintendents of education in America.

THE PALLADIUM

To Dr. Shackelford

s

*SO MANY little songs we sing
Are new from day to day,
Yet there is one within our hearts
That shall not pass away,
A melody which holds for us remembrances so dear,
Because it sings of happy things
And golden hours here.*

*This haunting melody of song,
The sweetest spir't hath
Of gratitude for lives are led
In such a pleasant path;
For vision of an ideal shown to heart and soul and mind,
A noble standard, noble man
From richest gold refined.*

*And now because we feel far more
Than words can ever tell,
We write this song to him who made
Our dream world visible;
Tho' not a word that we could sing,
Nor all that we could do,
Could show how much we owe,
Our President, to you.*

Three More Years of History—1926-1929

Three "more" because THE PALLADIUM for 1926 reviewed the record of the Troy Normal for the years 1923 to 1926

GENERAL STATEMENT

THE former period of three years was marked chiefly by expansion of enrollment; the present period is distinguished by improvement of the quality of work, which was made possible by increased legislative support. This increase permitted not only the enlargement of the faculty but also the addition of much needed equipment for classroom purposes. The enlargement of the faculty resulted in smaller classes and more individual instruction. Hence, the most characteristic development of the present period is the elevation of the standard of class work.

FORTY YEARS OF HISTORY

In September, 1927, the Troy Normal rounded out forty years of history, which was briefly reviewed in President Shackelford's annual report to the State Board of Education for that year. It is a report replete with interesting information, but it is too long to be reproduced here. Suffice it to say that the record is one of which any institution might well be proud. Those interested in such matters are referred to the report mentioned above and to the various issues of the Palladium, in each of which there is recorded a portion of the School's history, and this latter is in a much more detailed form than the report.

THE NORMAL UNDER THE GRAVES' ADMINISTRATION

By far the greatest step forward during the forty-three years of the Troy Normal's existence was taken in 1927 when the Legislature, under the splendid leadership of Governor Graves and Superintendent Tidwell, practically doubled the annual appropriation for maintenance and also set aside $400,000 for capital outlay during the quadrennium. As stated in the preceding paragraph, the increased maintenance fund led to the immediate enlargement of the faculty and classroom equipment. The building fund is now being used to enlarge the physical plant. Within a few months a commodious academic and administration building and a handsome modern dormitory for girls will be completed, and the School will be moved to one of the most beautiful and spacious school sites in America. Governor Graves and Superintendent Tidwell cannot be too highly commended for their part in making this development possible.

THE TROY NORMAL RANKS CLASS A

In recognition of the high class of work done by the Troy Normal the American Association of Teachers' Colleges, at its meeting in Boston in February, 1928, gave the School the rank of junior college, Class A. It had been inspected by President D. B. Waldo, at that time President of the American Association and also President of the Michigan State Teachers' College at Kalamazoo. The School is justly proud of this recognition, for there were some schools which could not get into the Association at all.

Class Prophecy

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA.

THE YEAR 1940.

JHAVING established myself comfortably in the real estate business, decided I would like to hear about my classmates of '29 in Troy Normal. My attention was call'd to Madame Lorita, who was the marvel of the age. She was all powerful for she knew the past, present and future of everyone.

Calling Madame Lorita into my office one day, I told her my desire to know the fate of my friends.

"Ah," she said, "that is the one easy job."

I call'd names out to her one by one and with a smile and a nod she answered. Not once did she waver or fail. She did know! My wish was granted and I was happy! Each fate was disclosed and I determined to let each know that I thought of him enough to seek him out.

I here set forth the record as revealed to me by Madam Lorita:

Louise Bozeman won a beauty contest and is now traveling as a representative of a famous beauty lotion corporation.

Herman Youngblood is the world's champion checker player and says that he will autograph any cigarette provided they don't force him to give up chewing tobacco.

Melba Knight is still teaching and she says that she likes it.

Lucile Lawson married and went into the mercantile business with her husband.

Entys Thomas and Arkie Wise are conducting a Cupid's Club. Their business slogan is "Abolish spinsters; there is no use for them."

Berta Wood married a multi-millionaire.

Dwight McDuff'e is pastor of the Bird's Eye M. E. Church in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Ring out, wild bells! Rita Jane Boykin was married last month to a celebrated motion picture actor and they are probably honeymooning on the Mediterranean now.

Capitola Swearingen is still teaching the first grade in a private school in Burlesque, Montana.

Margaret Shell and Jimmie Tollison own and operate a traveling beauty shoppe. They claim that they have lifted faces clear across the continent.

THE PALLADIUM

Mary Hargis has the distinction of being the first lady Senator from the State of Wyoming.

Mildred Freeman went to Hollywood to seek her fortune as an actress and stayed as the beloved wife of a Christian minister.

Grace Davis is smiling across the breakfast table at Well-we-all-know-who.

Ruth Tatum graduated from a Hotel Hostess school and is now employed by the Eatwell Hotel.

Patsye Williams is a breezy-story author of no little fame. Her latest story is "Marrying for Love."

To any one wishing to reduce, Edith Pettie is stationed in Denver, Col., at the head of a "Reduce by Mail" firm.

LONG—OLIVE
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Divorces and Wills a Specialty

A sign on a large New York office building.

Joe tells me that he and "Red" have cleared the way in the legal business.

Ida Wiley White and Foy Faircloth are in Hollywood collecting autographs for a certain brand of cigarettes.

Theo Dalton has established himself in Chicago as a lady's wearing apparel magnet. He imports the latest Parisian frocks. He has with him Sarah Cobb Adams and Katie B. Norred whom he employs as models.

Wilbur Harris, a promising miniature artist, is in Washington painting Washington's monument on the head of his walking cane.

Mary Brackin is playing the role of leading lady in a small domestic circle out in a Main Street town of the mid-west.

Marion Marshall has turned globe-trotter. She and Eva Mae Hayes are just at this time being entertained by the Royal Family of Siam.

Emmett Thomas and Grantham Glausier are keeping a light-house down on Cape Horn.

Millard Graves has given himself to Goodness, being the outstanding evangelist of these modern times.

Nick Kirkland is serving as model in one of Fifth Avenue's most select shops.

Kate Epperson, Mary Enzor, Alma Dopson and Sara Colley are conducting missionary work in China.

Fred Dean is president of a denominational college in North Dakota. Jack Wingard is serving under him as Dean Theology.

THE PALLADIUM

Mattie Clyde Windham is teaching public school music in the St. Louis public schools.

Flora Ward is the proud author of "The Third Old Maid", a book which has received favorable mention from the most severe critics of the day.

Annie Hendricks Barr visited Brazil, decided that she liked it so she stayed as the wife of a prosperous coffee planter.

Margaret Ruhston is on her 116th voyage across the Atlantic serving as librarian on one of the largest and fastest liners.

Lucile Chapman took her Ph. D. in landscape gardening. She and her husband are now planning the grounds of their beautiful home which is nearing completion.

Laura Herring is writing a newspaper column for a syndicate. The title of the column is "The Kind of a Girl the Boy Falls For".

Grace Harris is the art editor for one of America's well known magazines.

Arthur Jones married well. He is now resting from the labors of his courtship.

Margaret Allison is living happily ever after as the result of a most romantic courtship.

Johnnie McQuagge is editing a comic strip for a newspaper syndicate. Johnnie has made good in the field of light comedy.

Maurine Ruff married a submarine designer and she spends the greater part of her life under sea.

Mrs. B'anche Owens is a demonstrator for Royal Cup Coffee.

Elizabeth McClurkin and Inez Montgomery are sponsoring an "Old Maids' Welfare" organization. They are now touring the U. S. on a ten million dollar endowment fund drive.

Hattie Mae Riley has specialized in high pressure gas. She is now traveling with a large chataqua.

Raymond Mittenthal is the proprietor and manager of a large shoe store in Los Angeles, Cal.

Myrtle Quarles, Mary Sams, Ida Maud Smith, Mable Wise and Vivian Davis are listed among the hostesses at the Ranch Resort, an establishment in Montana which caters to the patronage of broken down members of the teaching profession.

MAX R. HOLLIS.

College Girl's Predicament

State Normal School,
Troy, Alabama,
October 28, 1928.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:—

I am a student at the Troy State Normal who needs help. I have been reading in papers your wonderful! advice to girls about problems concerning "the modern boy" and I thought perhaps you could help me.

I want to be popular on the college campus but above all (don't tell anybody though) I want to attract the attentions of one of the modern boys seen around on the campus. I do not care which I attract, for beggars can't be choosers, so I will describe the different types found on the campus, and let you tell me which type is best for one to start on.

If anything out of the ordinary happens and I get to school early in the morning, I always see a small group of boys in the "lib" getting up their lesson for the next day. I really do not think it will pay one to count them on my list because they never get their heads out of their books long enough to tell me from the janitor.

When the bell rings and I go to class, I see just the opposite—boys in a fidget trying to get up their work that should have been prepared before Friday and at the same time trying to see everybody that walks into the room.

Between classes I always need a stimulant, so I go to the canteen whch should be called a cafeteria because one always has to serve herself or wait for the boys drooped about the table behind the counter to finish telling all gossip that they have heard since the last "conference".

There is a wide range of variation in these boys. Leans and stouts, talls and shorts make up the group to say nothing of blondes and brunettes.

The last view I get in the afternoon is a dusty cloud, but you know the old saying, "Where there is smoke, there is always fire." The football squad is the fire in this instance—and (let me add) they are as good as a hopeless bunch, for their hearts are laced up in a hard football out of my reach—for the time being anyway.

I am afraid that you cannot give me a'l the advice I need in the paper, so I am sending a stamped envelope. Please write me a full list of rules to follow and I'll guarantee you they'll be followed, for we take a stiff course in "rules" here. I know my case is a hard one but I hope you'll be able to he'p one out.

Just another one of your impatient waiters.

BROWN EYES.

Troy Normal Retrospections

AS I turned my eyes to westward,
The scene did beauty lack;
I saw no great white mansion,
But just a meagre "Shack".

When I saw it was the Normal,
No longer did I mope,
My heart was filled with wonder,
My soul was filled with "Hope".

As I walked across the campus
With upturned eyes and face,
I thought I saw a steeple;
"Twas no spire but "Dr. Pace".

They must stress agriculture
Out under skies so blue,
For within its stately domain
There's a "Farmer" and "Gardner" too.

Within its towering portals
Which no man dare abuse,
There is a huge white marble chair
Upon which sits a "Muse".

For a while I looked and wondered,
Then, I began to see;
That the sober soul seated there
Was the spirit of our "Lea".

I left and ascended the stairway,
Where burned the scholastic light,
The summit was high; the way was hard,
But that was only "Wright".

I climbed, and climbed, and climbed ,
On top my tent to pitch;
When I did reach that pinnacle,
I considered myself quite "Rich".

Rich in the world of knowledge,
King of all domain;
Proudest cock on all the walk,
As proud as our "Sartain".

From my kingly position there,
Seated in a chair of fame,
I gazed again on Troy Normal,
The donor of my name.

Class History

NOT for glory or honor do we set forth our History, we, the class of '29. We believe in our Troy Normal and we wish to preserve our record of achievement in this school.

In September, 1927, our class set sail on the vast sea of knowledge. We braved the hardships of making for ourselves a place in the Troy Normal schedule. We met rules and regulations in hordes. Soon work crowded out all memories of past vacations and made us look forward to any coming ones.

Report time came and some had a wail of woe for a D or an F. Our main stimulation after the first term was to realize that we had progressed so far as to be initiated into the work of the second term.

We thrilled over the Seniors and gazed on them with all our admiration wondering if we would ever be so great. When Home Coming Day came, the Seniors went to the big banquet while we were left out of that honor.

Time passes quickly, however, and cures all ill so that before we knew it Christmas had become a memory and we were looking forward to summer vacation. Many a proud Troy Normal Junior boarded the trains for home well knowing how learned he had become in one short year.

The fall of 1928 brought us once more to Troy. Looking over our crowd we found that many had not returned but had already taken up the noble teaching profession. Jackson Long was elected leader of our group and we have worked to make a name for ourselves. Our Home Coming Day program far surpassed last year's (in our own estimation). We are positive no class ever worked more diligently for any group of teachers.

In looking back on our record, a member of our class can justly be proud. We are now looking toward our prize and reward—a diploma. Weathering all hardships, may this class of 1929 go forth to make a record in the world to follow up its Troy Normal record.

The College Song

YOU may talk about your colleges,
Columbia and Yale,
Old Princeton, Harvard and all the rest
'Til you grow very pale;
Or black or blue or any other tint
That you may like,
But as for us, our hearts are fixed
On Normal down in Pike.

CHORUS:

For we are students of the Normal
Down in Pike, we'll never hike;
Our colors are crimson and black,
We'll bravely bear the banner of
Normal School, rah—rah—rah.
TROY—TROY—RAH—RAH—RAH—
We're the kind that sure come back.

Oh, the dear old Normal down in Pike,
Why, she's our chiefest joy;
She's the gem of Alabama, she's
The crown of Troy.
Then blow your bugles, sound your trumpets,
Let the cymbals strike,
And we will shout 'til the welkin rings
For the Normal down in Pike.

THE PALLADIUM

ATHLETICS

Football

THE football schedule for 1928 was one of the toughest the Normal has ever booked. The Teachers won from Palmer College of De Funiak Springs, Florida, and Maxwell Field of Montgomery. Our defeats were administered by the following Junior Colleges: Jacksonville Normal, Marion Military Institute, and South Georgia A. and M. College of Tifton. The above teams were unusually strong. They outweighed the Normal by many pounds but were able to win only by hard fighting every minute.

COACH G. GAUMER

THE PALLADIUM

CLYDE LEWIS

(Tackle)

"Runt's" first year of college football was a success. His weight and accuracy enabled him to throw the opponents for many losses. Runt never weakened but stayed there until the battle ended.

FRED DEAN

(Half)

Smut's speed and headwork enabled him to make lots of gains around ends and off tackle. He was a sure blocker and death on opposing backs carrying the ball.

CHARLES SNELL

(Quarter)

Snell proved one of many to use his head in football jams. With his ability, clearness of calling signals and active thinking he made a nice quarterback.

MORRIS BASSETT

(Back)

"Will" carried the pigskin in every game for gains through the line and around ends. He was one of the high school boys who made the Normal Varsity two years. "Will" will be an asset to any senior college.

THE PALLADIUM

IRVIN BOROM

(End)

"Judge" was one man who said that they weren't going around him and they didn't. A veteran was he on threading the opposing interference to get his man.

CHARLES ENGLISH

(End)

English played a steady good game throughout the season and proved a constant threat because of his great work in receiving the aerial casts. English may be back next year—the fans hope so for the teachers need him.

CLAYTON SKINNER

(Guard)

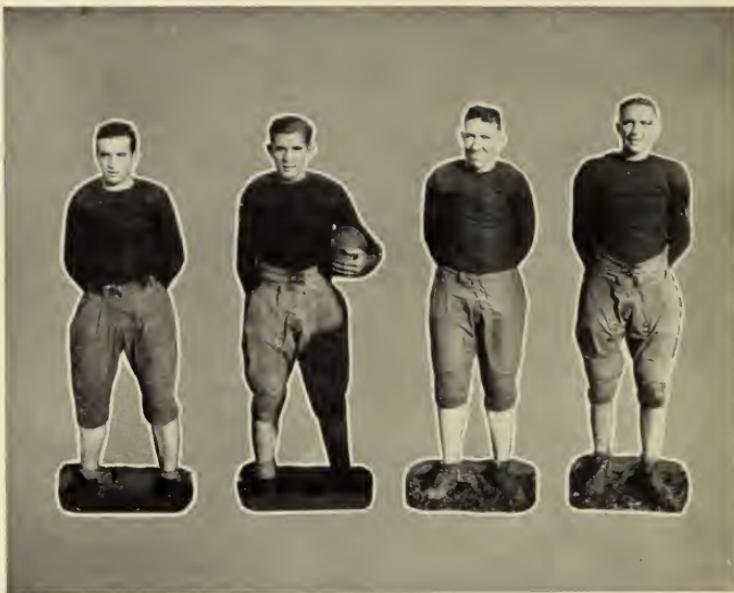

An alternate guard and tackle, Skinner proved on his toes every minute until the game ended. A hard fighter and a "hit-'em-hard" spirit—that's Skinner.

WEBSTER REEDER

(Center)

"Hot" was one of the men who would, after passing an accurate pass back to the kicker, go down under the punt and hit the receiver of said punt before the end—enough said. "Hot", with his fine passing ability, good judgment of speed, was one of our best men.

THE PALLADIUM

"SPEEDY" MITTENTHAL
(Back)

His name was derived from his low and fast running. Like a gust-o'-wind he could run and sidestep his opposing men. This handsome Adonis will graduate this year and with him goes one of the fleetest backs who ever wore the crimson and black.

CAPT. "DICK" JONES
(Tackle)

The mainstay of the Normal football team. He first held the position at guard. This place he valiantly held for two years. From guard he went to tackle and here he starred on the defense. Dick never once failed to break the line and get his man. As captain of the team this past season he never gave up fighting. He kept the old fighting spirit in victory or defeat. Dick is a valuable man who will be the greatest loss the team will suffer.

ROY JOHNSON
(Guard and Back)

"Hunk" came down from Illinois to show the Southerners his kicking ability. He also can tackle, block, use his hands and almost anything known for a first class linesman to do. He is hoped for back here next year.

OTTIS HAYES
(Guard and End)

"Bul ber" has had three years of linesman experience in high school and shows it. He was a good pass receiver and knew where it would be. He is expected by the teachers to be an outstanding star on next year's line-up.

ROBERT MARSH

(Center)

"Bob" made up with sheer stickability his lack of poundage. Bob played jump-up football all the time. With his accurate passes he also used his body and often got through and gave the opposing backs lots of trouble. Bob made all-state center in '27.

JACKSON LONG

(Guard)

"Red" surely dealt out misery in generous gobs. The size of the enemy had no deterring effect upon Red because he was unconscious of the fact while he was after the ball. Strange to say, he got it, too.

CHARLES PATTERSON

(End)

"Pat" was one of the hardest fighting men who ever wore a uniform for the teachers. "Pat's" interference of punts and passes was nothing less than brilliant. He will probably be back for another season.

B. A. HOLLAND

(Back and Guard)

"Babe" many times got men from behind where they were tearing out on a long run. As a back, he was a big threat in early season games and he made other men step to keep him out of the backfield.

THE PALLADIUM

CABERT NELSON

(Back)

"Preacher" was handicapped by inexperience this year. However, when he did get in the game he proved a valuable ball carrier and was a big favorite with his team-mates. He has a great future and will be watched next year.

JOHN HARMON

(Back)

John, another handsome brunette, was ready to go when called on. He was an all round man playing at some time almost all backfield positions and was good, too. He will be here to show his stuff next year.

HENRY LONG

(Tackle)

"Pete" was another one of those steady reliable men who always played his part well. "Pete" played fine games all year and very few gains were made over his side of the fortification.

CURREN FARMER

(Back)

This speedster was a thorn in the side to all of Troy's foes. During the past season Farmer rounded ends, slid off tackles, and was one of the best punters on the teachers' line-up.

REX JONES

(Tackle)

Rex could really "bust 'em open" when he was called on and got in there crying. Rex proved to be a very good man in every game in which he participated. He is expected to be great next season.

BUFORD JENNINGS

(End)

"Boots" was a reliable man at all times this year, and saw lots of service in all important games. "Boots" is a good blocker, tackler and takes passes well. He will be back next year.

COMER KILLOUGH

(Guard)

Playing football, for the first time in his very young life, he played when called upon, like a veteran. He can take men twice his size out of plays and that's no exaggeration.

EWELL CLARK

(Back)

Although handicapped by his size, "Shorty" never failed to deliver the goods in a pinch. He has sent cold chills through many linesmen of the opposing team. He could run low and was one of our best broken field runners.

Basket Ball

WITH one of the finest teams that ever went into battle, the Normal quintet came through a very spectacular season that has few equals in the athletic history of the school. Although the Teachers were handicapped by the lack of an indoor court and rainy season, they showed team work while in action. The Normal lost only a few games due partly to lack of good basket ball material. As the days grew shorter and the weather colder, they worked harder and became one of the wheels in the Normal's clock.

With most of the Varsity players returning next year, the Troy State Normal should have one of the dandiest teams in this vicinity.

Track

THE Normal this year is adding a new sport to its athletic activities in the form of a track team. It has never been tried here but the citizens will see later that anything we try out, we always make a success of. The equipment has been secured and we are about ready to begin training as we expect to be able to invite other schools here for a track meet later in the spring. Roy Johnson, a well experienced student in this line, is expected to have charge of the track activities in the early season.

Our Prospects

*A*S TO baseball, we have made it our ambition to put over a team that will never be forgotten. We are unable to mention at this early date, any names of the many contestants that will be seen in action later. However, we are sure we have some members of last year's teams who will be stars this year. We expect some good horse hide tossers here as Troy has always had support in the baseball team. There has been no schedule made yet but we expect to get vengeance on one or two Junior Colleges that have dealt us a blow in the past.

As a result of our "hoped to be successful year," we refer you to the 1930 Palladium and hope you succeed in finding its record.

Mr. Sartain: "Your answer reminds me of Quebec."

Johnny McQuagge: "Why?"

Mr. Sartain: "It's built on a bluff."

* * *

Clerk: "This book will do half your work."

Foy Faircloth: "Give me two, quick."

* * *

Fred Dean: "Look at those fellows. How will they ever get that football dirt off?"

"Speedy": "Oh, what do you think the scrub team is for?"

* * *

Mary Hargis: "What is a rare volume?"

Mr. Sartain: "It's a book that comes back after you've loaned it."

* * *

Wilbur Harris who had taken his Ford out on a cold wintry day was coverning the engine with a blanket.

Cary Senn (looking on): "Don't cover it up, mister; I saw what it was."

* * *

Alberta: "Excuse me, but are you the lady wot's singing?"

Annette S: "Yes, I am singing; why?"

Alberta: "Well, might I ask you not to hold on that top note so long. Earnest has knocked off twice already, mistaking it for the dinner whistle."

* * *

Miss Murphy: "What makes the leaves turn red in the fall?"

Mildred Freeman: "I guess they blush to think how green they've been all summer."

* * *

Mr. Arnold in science class: "Arthur, how many bones have you in your body?"

Arthur J.: "Nine hundred."

Mr. Arnold: "But that is a great many more than I have."

Arthur: "I had sardines for dinner."

* * *

Mrs. Arnold: "Fred, dear, if I do all the cooking for a month what will I get?"

Mr. Arnold: "You'll get all my life insurance and a long black veil."

Dr. Sanders (examining life insurance prospect)—"Do you ever talk in your sleep?"

Prof. Wright—"No, but I often talk in other people's sleep."

Dr. Sanders—"But how can that be?"

Prof. Wright—"I'm a college professor."

* * *

Theo Dalton called at a farm and the farmer offered him a job and three meals a day.

Theo asked what kind of work it would be. The farmer replied, "Digging potatoes."

Theo thereupon stretched himself and yawned, "Don't you think," he suggested, "you had better get the man who planted them? He knows just where they are!"

Courteous and Efficient Service

Growing With You!

This drug store had the pleasure of serving the parents of many present-day S. N. S. students, and just as our equipment and general service are so much more modern today, so doubtless, when the next generation comes a-know'edge seeking we'll be found to have developed some more—fully in keeping with the spirit of a Greater Normal.
